Privacy Act

ANNUAL REPORT (April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012)

1.0 Introduction

Canadian Heritage is pleased to present to Parliament its annual report on the administration of the Privacy Act for fiscal year April 1, 2011 to March 31, 2012. Section 72 of the Act requires that the head of every federal government institution submit an annual report to Parliament on the administration of the Act during the fiscal year.

The purpose of the Privacy Act is to protect the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by a government institution and to provide individuals with a right of access to their information. It also protects the privacy of individuals by exercising strict control over the collection, disclosure and use of such information.

Canadian Heritage is fully committed to both the spirit and the intent of the Privacy Act, which are based on the principles of open government and the assurance of privacy of individuals with respect to their personal information held by the Department.

2.0 Mandate of Canadian Heritage

The Department of Canadian Heritage and Canada's major national cultural institutions play a vital role in the cultural, civic and economic life of Canadians. We work together to support culture, the arts, heritage, official languages, citizenship and participation, in addition to Aboriginal, youth, and sport initiatives.

The Department of Canadian Heritage is responsible for programs and policies that help all Canadians participate in their shared cultural and civic life. The Department's legislative mandate is set out in the Department of Canadian Heritage Act and other statutes for which the Minister of Canadian Heritage and Official Languages is responsible and presents a wide-ranging list of responsibilities for the Minister under the heading of "Canadian identity and values, cultural development, and heritage."

The Department oversees numerous statutes, namely the Broadcasting Act, the Copyright Act and the Investment Canada Act (the latter two acts shared with Industry Canada), the Official Languages Act (Part VII), the Museums Act, the Cultural Property Export and Import Act, the Status of the Artist Act, and the Physical Activity and Sport Act (shared with Health Canada).

The Department of Canadian Heritage is specifically responsible for formulating and implementing cultural policies related to copyright, foreign investment and broadcasting, as well as policies related to arts, culture, heritage, official languages, sport, state ceremonial and protocol, and Canadian symbols. The Department's main program activities are delivered through funding of community and third-party organizations to promote the benefits of culture, identity, and sport for Canadians.

The Minister of Canadian Heritage and Official Languages is responsible for the Department and is assisted by the Minister of State for Sport. The Canadian Heritage Portfolio consist of the Department, including two special operating agencies, the Canadian Conservation Institute and the Canadian Heritage Information Network, as well as four departmental agencies, ten Crown corporations and one administrative tribunal. The Canadian Heritage Portfolio also includes four organizations active in human resources which report to Parliament through the Minister.

3.0 The Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat

The Access to Information and Privacy (ATIP) Secretariat is responsible for administering the Privacy Act within Canadian Heritage. Its mandate is to act on behalf of the Minister of Canadian Heritage in ensuring compliance with legislation, regulations and government policy and to create departmental directives, including standards, in all matters relating to the Act. The powers, duties and functions of the administration of the Privacy Act have been fully delegated by the Minister to the Director of the ATIP Secretariat.

During the reporting period, the Secretariat consisted of the following positions: Director, Deputy Director, six analysts, one project manager and two administrative support staff. In the departmental organizational structure, the ATIP Secretariat reports to the Corporate Secretary for Canadian Heritage.

The activities of the Access to Information and Privacy Secretariat include:

- receiving and processing requests in accordance with the Act;
- promoting awareness of the Act within the Department;
- preparing the annual report to Parliament and the annual statistical report and maintaining the Department's Info Source chapter;
- monitoring departmental compliance with the Act; and
- providing professional advice and guidance to senior management and all departmental staff on the Act.
- assisting in the privacy impact assessment process and in creating or modifying personal information banks.

The ATIP Secretariat is continuously looking for new ways to streamline the processing of requests. This reporting period, the Privacy Act delegation order (Appendix 1.0) has been amended. This new delegation order designates the Deputy Director to exercise certain powers and functions. As a result, the affected administrative processes have been made more efficient.

4.0 Administration of Requests under the Privacy Act

4.1 Privacy Requests

Between April 1, 2011 and March 31, 2012, 10 formal requests for information were received under the Privacy Act. No requests for correction were received this fiscal year. See Appendix 2.0 for the Statistical Report on the Privacy Act.

4.2 Disposition of Completed Requests

Eleven requests were completed during the reporting period. Of the requests completed, one resulted in full disclosure of information and seven requests resulted in the partial disclosure of information. It was not possible to process three of the requests received as no records existed.

4.3 Extensions

Requests can be extended beyond the 30-day statutory time frame in two circumstances. In one case, the Department required a 30-day time extension in order to consult with another institution.

4.4 Exemptions

The Privacy Act sets out specific exceptions to the right of access. These exceptions are known as exemptions. Each exemption is intended to protect information relating to a particular public or private interest and form the only basis for refusing access to personal information under the Privacy Act. In the processing of requests, two exemptions to withhold information under the Privacy Act were invoked. Section 26 (personal information about another individual) was invoked in seven requests, while section 27 (solicitor-client privilege) was invoked in two requests.

4.5 Complaints and Federal Court Cases

Two complaints regarding the processing of requests were filed with the Office of the Privacy Commissioner (OPC) against Canadian Heritage in the fiscal year. The reasons for the complaints are: delay (1) and the application of exemptions (1). The OPC completed their investigation into the delay complaint on Canadian Heritage. Their finding concluded that the complaint was well founded and resolved. There are no Federal Court cases concerning the refusal of access.

4.6 Costs

The costs of $72,527, reported in the statistical report, include those incurred for the processing of requests, and for all other activities associated with the administration of the Act such as providing advice, and training and awareness. During the fiscal year, the Secretariat succeeded in staffing the vacant positions as a result of employee turnover.

5.0 Education and Training Activities

To increase the knowledge and understanding of the Privacy Act across the department, training and awareness sessions were delivered to departmental employees. These sessions provided basic information on the purpose and provisions of the Privacy Act, as well as the roles and responsibilities of departmental employees and the ATIP Secretariat.

The ATIP Secretariat had concentrated on marketing awareness services through existing departmental initiatives. This reporting period, Privacy was included in the Departmental Learning Priorities. This identifies Privacy as a consideration in the development of employee and manager learning plans. Information sessions continued to be provided to new departmental staff and managers through the Canadian Heritage orientation program. This program provides an introduction to the key aspects of the Department including who and what we are and how we get things done. For sessions requested by branches, information was tailored to meet the specific needs of the branch concerned.

This reporting period, the ATIP Secretariat delivered 27 awareness sessions on the Privacy Act to departmental employees in the National Capital Region and regional offices. In total, 405 employees attended information sessions.

The internal website for the ATIP Secretariat was regularly revised with new tools and information. The website describes the ATIP Secretariat's roles and responsibilities and provides information on the Privacy Act and related departmental policies and procedures. Additionally, the Department's annual reports on the administration of the Privacy Act have been made available on the Internet site.

6.0 Disclosure of Personal Information Pursuant to Section 8(2)

Section 8(2) of the Privacy Act stipulates under which circumstances personal information under the control of a government institution may be disclosed. During the reporting period, no disclosures were made pursuant to section 8(2)(f), (g) and (m) of the Privacy Act. One disclosure was made pursuant to 8(2)(e) of the Act. Canadian Heritage provided information to an investigation body.

7.0 Privacy Impact Assessments

Thirteen Privacy Impact Assessment Checklists were evaluated for new or changed programs or systems, three of which resulted in the requirement for a privacy impact assessment. Accordingly, three new Privacy Impact Assessments (PIA) were initiated. No PIAs were completed.

8.0 Personal Information Banks / Classes of Personal Information

No new Personal Information Banks or Classes of Personal Information have been identified during the reporting period.

9.0 Data Sharing Activities

There were no data matching activities during the reporting period.
